NOTICE TO PARENTS/GUARDIANS Of Seabird Island Community School

June 10th in the afternoon after school was dismissed, there was an incident at the high school during which threats were made. There were no weapons involved, no immediate risk to staff or students and no harm was sustained by anyone.

The authorities were immediately notified and all necessary steps were taken to ensure proper procedures were followed. We have no reason at this time to be concerned about the safety of our students or staff.

Seabird waited to post to ensure all the facts were correct and waited for approval from the authorities.

Hands go up to the School/ Staff for keeping it together and keeping the students safe.

Saint Kateri Tekakwitha Celebration at the Seabird Island Church

The Churches of Immaculate Conception (Seabird Island) and Our Lady of Fatima (Sts'ailes) would like to invite you to participate in the celebration of the feast day of Saint Kateri Tekakwitha on July 14 at 9:30 a.m.

Our church communities feel a strong obligation to honour her memory as the first North American First Nations Saint. Kateri lived at a time when First Nations people were not asked or forced to leave their language or culture behind.

It was through her walk with her culture and her relationship to Jesus Christ that she was able to reach the great height of Sainthood. She stands before us today as a powerful example of a person that was able to be loyal to her faith and to her culture.

Here is a short synopsis of St. Kateri's life: Known as the "Lily of the Mohawks", Kateri Tekakwitha was born in 1656 in Ossernenon (today Auriesville, New York) to a Catholic Algonquin mother and a Mohawk Chief.

When she was four years old, her parents and brother died of smallpox. Kateri was also affected by the disease, which left her almost blind and it badly scarred her face. She was taken in by her aunts and uncle, who were all strongly opposed to Christianity.

When she was 10 years old, her village moved to Caughnawaga (today Fonda, New York). In 1667, her village was visited by three Jesuit missionaries: Fathers Fremin, Bruyas and Pierron. From them, she received her first knowledge of Christianity. When Kateri turned 18, Father Jacques de Lamberville arrived to take charge of the mission in her village.

Despite his misgivings, her uncle allowed her to be baptized as long as she remained in the village. Following her Baptism, Kateri lived a pious and faith-filled life, spending hours in prayer and fashioning crosses out of twigs. She also refused to marry, believing that she was married to God and that no man could take God's place in her heart. Her beliefs were met with ridicule, hostility and threats. Thus, two years after her Baptism, she fled to St. Francis Xavier Mission, a Christian Mohawk vil-lage in Kahnawake, Quebec.

There, she received her first Communion on Christmas Day 1677. She also made a vow of perpetual virginity on the Feast of the Annunciation in 1679. In Kahnawake, Kateri was known for her faith and holiness. She taught prayers to children, cared for the elderly and the sick, would often attend mass at sunrise and sunset.

Kateri's health deteriorated in the last years of her life. She died of tuberculosis on April 17, 1680, shortly before her 24th birthday and was buried at St. Francis Xavier Mission. Her final words were: "Jesou Kono-ronkwa" ("Jesus, I love you"). Witnesses report that within minutes of her death, the smallpox scars vanished from her face, which then radiated with beauty.

It is believed that since Kateri's death many miracles have been performed through her intercession, with the sick being cured and many prayers being answered. Kateri was declared Venerable by Pope Pius XII on January 3, 1943, and beatified by Pope John Paul II in 1980. On December 19, 2011, Pope Benedict XVI signed a decree officially acknowledging another miracle attributed to her intervention. Saint Kateri Tekakwitha was canonized by Pope Benedict XVI on October 21, 2012, in Rome. She became "the first native North American to be raised to the glory of the altars".

Today, there are a number of shrines and centres dedicated to Kateri in both the United States and Canada, including the National Shrine of St. Kateri Tekakwitha at the site of her Baptism in Fonda, New York, the Kateri Centre at her burial site at the St. Francis Xavier Mission in Kahnawake, which today is in the Diocese of Saint-Jean-Longueuil, and the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs at her birthplace in Auriesville, New York.

The Jesuits' account of Tekakwitha said that she was a modest girl who avoided social gatherings; she covered much of her head with a blanket because of the smallpox scars.

They said that, as an orphan, the girl was under the care of uninterested relatives. According to Mohawk practices, she was probably well taken care of by her clan, her mother and uncle's extended family, with whom she lived in the longhouse.

She became skilled at traditional women's arts, which included making clothing and belts from animal skins; weaving mats, baskets and boxes from reeds and grasses; and preparing food from game, crops and gathered produce. She took part in the women's seasonal planting and intermittent weeding. As was the custom, she was pressured to consider marriage around age thirteen, but she refused.

Miracles:

Joseph Kellogg was a Protestant child captured by Natives in the eighteenth century and eventually returned to his home. Twelve months later, he caught smallpox. The Jesuits helped treat him but he was not recovering. They had relics from Tekakwitha's grave but did not want to use them on a non-Catholic. One Jesuit told Kellogg that, if he would become a Roman Catholic, help would come to him. Joseph did so. The Jesuit gave him a piece of decayed wood from Kateri's coffin, which is said to have made him heal. The historian Allan Greer takes this account to mean that Tekakwitha was known in 18th-century New France and she was already perceived to have healing abilities.

Other miracles were attributed to Kateri: Father Rémy recovered his hearing and a nun in Montreal was cured by using items formerly belonging to Kateri. Such incidents were evidence that Kateri was possibly a saint. Following the death of a person, sainthood is symbolized by events that show the rejection of death.

It is also represented by a duality of pain and a neutralization of the other's pain (all shown by her reputed miracles in New France). Father Chauchetière told settlers in La Prairie to pray to Kateri for intercession with illnesses. Due to the Jesuits' superior system of publicizing material, his words and Kateri's fame were said to reach Jesuits in China and their converts.

As people believed in her healing powers, some collected earth from her gravesite and wore it in bags as a relic. One woman said she was saved from pneumonia ("grande maladie du rhume"); she gave the pendant to her husband, who was healed from his disease.

The agenda for the celebration of the feast day of Saint Kateri:

9:30 a.m. - Meet at Immaculate Conception Church and prepare for pro-cession. We will process (short walk) saying the rosary led by an Elder at Seabird Island.

9:45 a.m. - To start the procession with a cultural song and dance. Then proceed to walk while saying the rosary.

There will be an intercessory prayer offered to Our Blessed Mother Mary and Saint Kateri after each decade of the rosary. We will ask for their intercession in the following areas:

1. for healing of past memories of victimization and violence of any form.
2. healing from any form of addictions.
3. to free all communities on earth from every form of racism and discrimination.
4. to give our children the courage and strength to pursue their dreams.
5. to give strength to our Matriarchs and Patriarchs to impart the wisdom and guidance to the people in their walk towards the future.

After completing our walk our closing prayer will be a cultural song or dance.

11:00 a.m. - Process inside the Church for mass. Our opening song will be a cultural song.

12:00 p.m. - Barbecue lunch.

The Important of Wearing a Seatbelt and Regulations

Wearing a seatbelt is one of the most important ways for drivers and passengers - to protect themselves.

Your chances of surviving a vehicle crash increase dramatically if you're wearing a seatbelt properly. Seatbelts reduce the risk of occupants striking the interior of the vehicle, colliding with other passengers, or being ejected. Wearing Seatbelts in BC is also the law. Every seat used in your vehicle must have a seatbelt. A fine not wearing a seatbelt is $167. Each unrestrained occupant risks a violation ticket. The driver is responsible for ensuring that passengers under 16 years of age are properly restrained.

Make sure you correctly use a Canadian Motor Vehicle Safety Standards - approved child safety seat. Seats purchased outside of Canada, including online from non-Canadian vendors will not comply with Canada's safety regulations.

Set an example for your children and other drivers by making smart driving decisions on the road. Start by always wearing your seatbelt and make sure that everyone else in your vehicle does, too.

For more specific information on seatbelt and child seat safety, check out road safety/ safer drivers and passengers/ seatbelts on icbc.com/road-safety or the Transport Canada website at www.tc.gc.ca

MEDICAL CARDS

Need to apply for a new Medical Card because it was lost or stolen? We can assist you when applying for a new one.

Each client is responsible for paying for their Medical Cards. If they've been lost or stolen more than two times the cost is $20 for each new card.

Please note, we do not assist with BC ID applications.

AMBULANCE BILLS

Please submit ambulance bills as soon as you receive them. If the bill is more than 1 year old, ambulance costs will no longer be covered under the Non-Insured Health Benefits (NIHB). Anyone with a status number can have the ambulance paid for by Health Canada as long as it's not an ICBC claim.

We can only provide assistance to those with a status number.

Unfortunately, ambulance bills will not be covered if you were also incarcerated in jail. Ambulance billing will know if you were incarcerated based on the bill's address. Please do not bring these in as they will be denied and it will be the client's responsibility to pay.

Please note, if you were taken home in an ambulance after a stay in the hospital, this will not be covered and it will be the client's responsibility to pay.
